Introducing Profhilo® at Glendair

Profhilo® is an innovative approach to anti-ageing. This bio-remodelling treatment has an immediate tightening effect and uses injectable hyaluronic acid to improve skin laxity, hydration and overall skin quality.

Unlike traditional fillers which focus on volume, Profhilo® integrates into the tissue where it restores the levels of hyaluronic acid naturally found in the skin. It stimulates the body's own collagen and elastin production for more natural, long-lasting results.

Profhilo® can treat the face, jowls, hands and décolletage area whilst Profhilo® Body can treat the inner arm and abdomen area.

The specially developed injection technique reduces downtime and the number of sessions required. We recommend just 2 treatments, one month apart.

We also offer Profhilo® Structura, an advanced, regenerative injectable designed to restore and rejuvenate the superficial fat layer of the face. It provides natural lifting, tightens facial contours, and improves skin laxity without adding artificial volume like traditional dermal fillers.
